Business Process Automation: Organize Your Organization....

From Manual To Automated

How It Works

If you have a unique business process that has multiple users involved in the process and you are managing the whole process over excel sheets, word files or hardcopy documents, then you surely need a process automation software that can be built especially for you. Even the most common business process like hiring, billing, leads management can be customized the way you want in the most simplest of formats, with you having the control of the entire software.

The software that you get developed is fully your copyright asset, you own the servers and the entire database. You just incur one time development fees and the software is yours. Recurring charges are only server charges and annual maintenance for any code updates for security purposes.

Our Process Features

- We understand your requirements and simplify your process that you can interpret.

- We visually represent the simulation of all the business process screens and its functions.

- This helps you to further understand your own process in depth.

- Clarity in understanding helps us explain process logics to all the team members and gather as many process inter linkings and simplification checkpoints as possible.

- 90% of this simulation is how your software will work in actual sense.

- This simulation has all the process user flows, different module fields, functionality conditions/ logics/ formulas display of screens. In short it visually shows all the possible flows in different scenarios of the process.

- This simulation helps make the development process systematic, with less reworks, you're better in control and prepared for.

- As it's exactly what you want, you can verify the developed project with this simulated view as well.

- The development team and testing team are well informed about your process logics, thus reducing the time required to transfer knowledge from department to department.

- Phase updates of the process are also easier to understand and update in the simulation.

From Manual To Automated

Why Us

- ✓ The Business owner need not be technical, he just needs to know his business process logics.

- ✓ We are adept in understanding any kind of complex business process and breaking down to technically understandable logics for the development team and visually interpretable screens to the business owners.

- ✓ The UI/UX and functionality simulation view beats any kind of BRS document, scope of work flow charts, Data Flow Diagrams.

- ✓ We have helped automate so many business processes that we can help you understand your own process better by giving you a birds eye view with the automation simulation view.

- ✓ We help in integrating departments that you would have not imagined could work in sync, but making the process effective, efficient and automated.

- ✓ Your whole business process is broken down to dashboards and reports. The whole process gets automated and works on its own.
